SUMMARY

Microsoft Corporation trades at 28.7x trailing earnings, above the typical 15–25x range for large companies, a premium that implies the market expects above-average growth; a forward P/E of 21.8x shows analysts expect earnings to rise. Margins are exceptionally strong: it keeps 40.3% of revenue as net profit and earns a 34.0% return on shareholders' equity. Revenue growth is strong at 17.7% year on year in the latest quarter, with earnings per share growing faster (31.7%), a sign of widening margins. The balance sheet is conservatively financed, with debt at 0.29x equity, and a current ratio of 1.23x means short-term assets cover near-term obligations.

Growth compares the latest quarter with the same quarter a year earlier. Total return runs 27 Sep 2021 to 25 Sep 2026 with dividends reinvested, against the S&P 500 Total Return index; the difference is in percentage points. n/a: not available.
